Richard Stuttle

Richard has a passion for art and creativity. He has always felt a strong connection to spirit and mother earth. He is a working platform medium, spirit artist and energy healer. Demonstrating and teaching in churches and venues around the United Kingdom and Europe.

As a professional artist, Richard creates fine art for exhibition and intuitive art for healing and wellbeing. Richard's work hangs in galleries and private collections around the world. He has exhibited in galleries in the United Kingdom, France, Australia, and the U.S. He now works on commission and incorporates art within his mediumship and healing.

Spirit art and mediumship. Richard is a certificate holder of the Spiritualists National Union for speaking and demonstrating mediumship (CSNU). He studied at the Arthur Findlay College, a college for spiritual development and the psychic sciences. His first visit was over twenty years ago. He has also undertaken mentorships with Minister Colin Bates and Janette Marshall CSNU.

Energy healing. Richard studied at the Harry Edwards Healing Sanctuary. Completing the two-year training course. He is a certified energy healer with Harry Edwards and is registered with UK Healers. Richard also sits on the board of trustees, supporting the sanctuary and helping to push the importance of healing in today's world.

Richard is a published author and a founder of Caroline's Rainbow Foundation. A charity created after the passing to spirit of his sister in 2002. The charity promotes travel safety to our next generation of backpackers and world travellers. In 2021 Pegasus Publishers published, 'Chasing Rainbows - the Stolen Future of Caroline Ann Stuttle.' The book is an insightful real-life story of ordinary people who found themselves in extraordinary circumstances. It is a turbulent journey through the devastating impact of the murder of Caroline Ann Stuttle. The story is told from her brother's perspective, after a phone call at 4:30 a.m. in the French Alps changed his world forever.
